

Endangered and guarded from birth - a baby white rhino

Rhino horn has become such a valued illegal commodity that the Kenya Wildlife Service has White rhino mother and her months-old baby under 24-hour surveillance. I was privileged to spend an entire morning watching the bond between the two in Meru National Park - Shazaad Kasmani

